

Tiziano Weilenmann

Consultant

---

B. Sc. EHL in International Hospitality Management

Tiziano Weilenmann has been working for Hanser Consulting AG since 2022

He works as a Junior Consultant for tourism and spatial planning, focusing mainly on macroeconomic questions about the canton of Graubünden and its regions. He assists projects about tourism development, population trends, and spatial development.

Before working for Hanser Consulting AG Tiziano has attended the bilingual economics and law gymnasium at Kantonsschule Enge. After that, he graduated from the École hôtelière de Lausanne with a Bachelor of Science in International Hospitality Management. During his studies, he had the opportunity to work on various group projects concerning micro- and macroeconomics, hotel asset management, finances, statistics and corporate management. Especially noteworthy is a 10-week consulting project in the scope of his bachelor thesis for the European Energy Exchange Group on the topic of corporate values and communication strategy.

Tiziano Weilenmann gathered professional experience in the hospitality industry before joining Hanser Consulting AG. Through various jobs in different departments, he managed to gather in-depth insights into the areas of hotel management and tourism. Alongside his academic interests, he is interested in various sporting activities, such as football, tennis, diving and kitesurfing. Furthermore, he likes to brew his own beer with friends during weekends.
